

OSHbox Health and Safety

Every week OSHbox receive enquiries from businesses wanting to know what systems they need to have at work to comply with the Health and Safety Act and the latest regulations and requirements for their industry – and what it would take to get those systems in place.

Those same businesses have 3 other requirements:

- They don't have the time to put together a system themselves, so they want it to be simple
- They are concerned that they will miss something if they do it themselves, so they want someone to help
- They don't want it to cost a fortune

To assist our clients with their Health and Safety requirements, ICIB has created a referral partnership with OSHbox to help make safety simple.

How OSHbox works...

Every business has different requirements, so OSHbox have designed a system that can be tailored to any industry and any size business and they've set the pricing to mirror this – so you actually only pay for what you need. An off the shelf generic health and safety manual won't work – you need a system that is customised to the work you do and the size of your company.

OSHbox offers ICIB clients a free initial consultation and during that time they provide you with recommendations and a quote to help write and implement your system.

“The aim is to show small to medium size businesses that implementing and running a workplace health and safety system can be really easy – and in the long-run it could not only save you money, but also save your employees and colleagues from injury.”

The OSHbox promise – we'll show you how to make safety simple.

For enquiries and an initial consultation please contact Angie Williams and let her know you are an ICIB client.
